1. Introduction

This document describes the MOPAN Common Approach methodology for the 2013 assessment, those who will participate in the study, and the data collection and analysis process to be applied this year.

Background

The Multilateral Organisation Performance Assessment Network (MOPAN) is a network of 17 donor countries¹ with a common interest in assessing the organisational effectiveness of and evidence of contribution to development and humanitarian results achieved by the multilateral organisations that they fund.

The MOPAN Common Approach methodology was developed to address the recognised need for a common comprehensive system to assess multilateral organisations. Its aim is to respond to the information needs of donors by producing information that would not be available otherwise about how an organisation is doing in areas that donors consider important.

The Common Approach aims to reduce the need for other assessment approaches by bilateral donors. It was derived from existing bilateral assessment tools and complements and draws on other assessment processes for multilateral organisations – such as the previous Survey on Monitoring the Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness and annual reports of the Common Performance Assessment System (COMPAS) published by the multilateral development banks.

Purpose

MOPAN assessments are intended to:

- Generate relevant, credible and robust information MOPAN members can use to meet their domestic accountability requirements and fulfil their responsibilities and obligations as bilateral donors.
- Provide an evidence base for MOPAN members, multilateral organisations and direct partners to discuss organisational effectiveness and a multilateral organisation's contributions to development and/or humanitarian results, in doing so, build better understanding and improve organisational effectiveness, results achieved and learning over time.
- Support dialogue between individual MOPAN members, multilateral organisations and their partners, with a specific focus on improving organisational effectiveness over time, both at country and headquarters level.

The MOPAN Common Approach does not compare multilateral organisations to one another as their mandates and structures vary too much in nature and scope. MOPAN assessments are repeated at intervals and, therefore, can help determine whether a multilateral organisation's performance is perceived to have changed over time in the areas examined by the MOPAN Common Approach. It is important to note, however, that as MOPAN continues to improve the methodology for the Common Approach from year to year, comparisons of this year's results with those of previous years should be handled with caution.

¹ MOPAN members in 2013: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, the Netherlands, Norway, Republic of Korea, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States.

2. MOPAN Common Approach

2.1 Evolution

The MOPAN methodology was initially designed to assess the organisational effectiveness of multilateral organisations, which MOPAN defines as the extent to which a multilateral organisation is organised to contribute to development results in the countries where it operates. Given this focus, MOPAN assessments emphasised the organisational practices, systems, and behaviours that MOPAN believes are important for multilateral organisations in managing for development results.

The methodology has evolved in response to what is learned from year to year, and to accommodate multilateral organisations with different mandates (e.g. development, humanitarian, normative). In 2009, the MOPAN Common Approach replaced the Annual MOPAN Survey, which had been conducted since 2003. The MOPAN Common Approach is broader and deeper than the previous surveys and includes the following components:

- Survey – The MOPAN survey brings in the views of MOPAN members (at both headquarters and country level), as well as direct partners or clients of multilateral organisations, peer organisations, and other relevant stakeholder groups on the performance of the particular multilateral organisation.
- Document review – Since 2010, survey data are complemented by a review of documents prepared by the multilateral organisations being assessed and other sources. Evidence is analysed in detail to assess the extent to which a multilateral organisation has systems in place that MOPAN considers to be important factors that contribute to an organisation's internal effectiveness, as well as evidence of the extent of progress towards defined results at various levels.
- Interviews – Since 2012, MOPAN has complemented survey data and the document review with interviews with staff of the multilateral organisations assessed. These are intended to contextualise the analysis of organisational systems and results and to aid in the dialogue between MOPAN and the multilateral organisation. The interviews are not coded or used as a formal data source.
- Development and/or humanitarian results component – In 2013, the Common Approach includes a component to assess a multilateral organisation's contributions to development and/or humanitarian results, which was piloted in 2012.²

As MOPAN's methodology has changed significantly in the last three years, comparisons of this year's assessments and previous assessments should take this into consideration.

2.2 Performance areas and indicators

2.2.1 Overview

The MOPAN Common Approach assesses multilateral organisations in two areas: 1) organisational effectiveness and 2) development and/or humanitarian results. The assessment of organisational effectiveness examines the organisational systems, practices, and behaviours that MOPAN believes are important for aid effectiveness and that are likely to contribute to results at the country level; the development and/or humanitarian results component assesses the evidence of the achievement of results by the multilateral organisation.

² This component was tested in 2012 with the AfDB, UNICEF, UNDP, and the World Bank and focused solely on development results. In 2013, this component is part of all assessments and, in the case of WFP, includes an assessment of the evidence of contribution to humanitarian results.

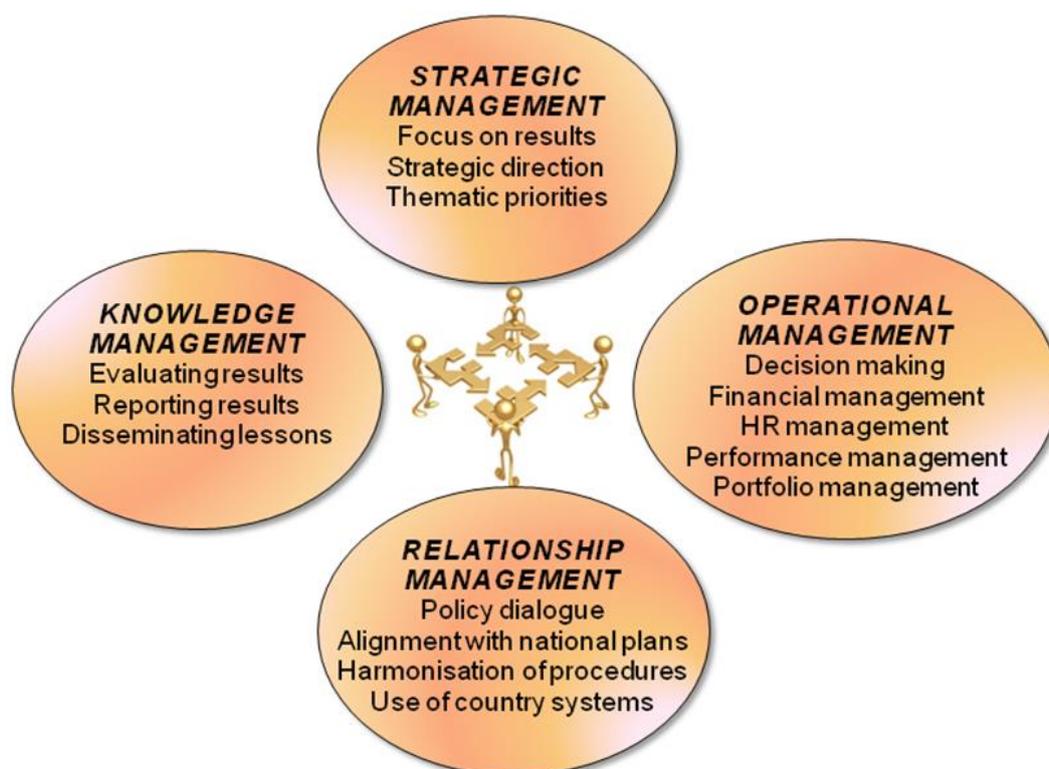

2.2.2 Key performance indicators and micro-indicators used to assess organisational effectiveness

The Common Approach framework groups organisational capacities in four areas of performance:

- Strategic management: developing and following strategies that reflect good practices in managing for development and/or humanitarian results;
- Operational management: managing operations in a way that is performance-oriented, thus ensuring organisational accountability for resources and results;
- Relationship management: engaging in relationships with direct partners/clients and other donors at the country level in ways that contribute to aid effectiveness and that are aligned with the principles of the Paris Declaration and subsequent Aid Effectiveness commitments, such as the Accra Agenda for Action and Busan Partnership for Effective Development Co-operation; and
- Knowledge management: developing feedback and reporting mechanisms and learning strategies that facilitate the sharing of knowledge and performance information.

While these definitions and performance areas are broadly applicable to a range of types of multilateral organisations (including those involved in humanitarian and normative work), the dimensions explored in the MOPAN Common Approach are adjusted, as required, to reflect the mandates of each organisation assessed.

Dimensions of organisational effectiveness in the MOPAN Common Approach

Within each performance area, organisational effectiveness is described using several key performance indicators (KPIs) that are then measured in a series of micro-indicators (MIs).

The 2013 assessment draws on indicators that MOPAN has developed since 2007 (see sidebar) and tailors them, as required, for each of the organisations being assessed.

Evolution of MOPAN indicators

2007: In an initial mapping exercise of existing bilateral donor assessment tools, MOPAN identified 250 indicators, many of which were overlapping.

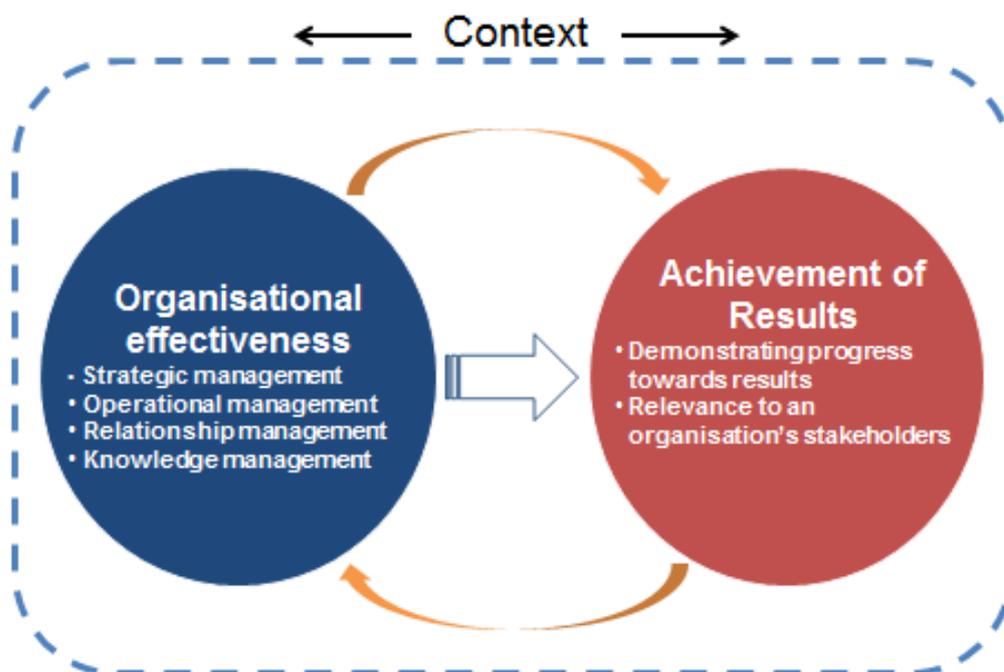

2008: MOPAN reduced these to 35 key performance indicators (KPI) and 120 micro-indicators (MI)

2009 – 2012: MOPAN assessments included between 18 and 21 key performance indicators and between 60 and 75 micro-indicators, depending on the nature of the organisation and its mandate.

2.2.3 Linking organisational effectiveness and progress towards development and/or humanitarian results

A key assumption in the Common Approach framework is that organisational effectiveness has an influence on an organisation’s ability to achieve its strategic objectives as illustrated in the figure below. Feedback on the achievement of objectives/results can, in turn, provide insights for further improvements in organisational practices. With a component that examines how an organisation measures and reports on concrete development and/or humanitarian results, MOPAN members can better understand the way that organisational practices are facilitating or hindering the organisation’s results on the ground.³ This information can then be used to enhance dialogue with the multilateral organisation.

A second assumption in the design of the methodology is that organisations provide or are moving towards evidence-based reporting on results. Thus, the assessment should also provide input for discussions between donors and multilateral organisations on how best to document and report on results.

³ However, it is important to recognise that organisational practices may not be the only facilitating/hindering factor with respect to the achievement of results. The country context or environment, for example, also plays an important role.

2.2.4 Key performance indicators used to assess contributions to development and/or humanitarian results

In 2012, MOPAN defined additional KPIs to examine the achievement of development results at both the institutional/organisation-wide level and the country level, as well as stakeholder perceptions of the relevance of the organisation's work in country. This component was tested with four of the six organisations assessed in 2012: the AfDB, UNDP, UNICEF, and the World Bank.⁴ In 2013, this component will be included in all four assessments and will examine the following three key performance indicators:

- KPI A – Evidence of the extent of the multilateral organisation's progress towards its institutional/organisation-wide results⁵
- KPI B – Evidence of the extent of the multilateral organisation's contributions to country-level goals and priorities, including relevant millennium development goals (MDGs)
- KPI C – Relevance of objectives and programme of work to stakeholders

The assessments at the institutional/organisational level (KPI A) and at the country level (KPI B and C) are separated due to differences in focus, scope and reporting on results at these two levels. Organisation-wide results are, by definition, very broad and provide the general strategic directions that in most cases are then operationalised by activities at the country level. The planned results found in country strategies normally follow the overall strategic framework but are more specific and typically linked to national strategies.

KPI A focuses on the extent to which an organisation is demonstrating progress towards planned organisation-wide results. It identifies the main areas of achievement and analyses the type of evidence produced by multilateral organisations to support conclusions in performance reports. In addition, the main factors affecting performance and evidence of improvement over time are discussed.

KPI B analyses similar issues, but from a country perspective. By focusing on the country level, MOPAN recognises the demand-driven nature of many of the activities of multilateral organisations and the key role that is played by their country assistance strategies or country programming documents. Country strategies and/or country programme documents usually articulate the planned results (goals/objectives/outcomes) and identify where there is shared responsibility between the multilateral organisation and its partner countries. Since most organisations have a large number of planned results, a limited number of key results to be assessed may be selected for the assessment.

Multilateral organisations have also made commitments to the MDGs and are concerned about making contributions in these areas. The MDGs are collective, global targets that, in many cases, have been used by partner countries in defining their priorities. While partner countries are responsible for making progress toward the MDGs, bilateral donors and multilateral organisations ensure that trade, finance, aid, and knowledge facilitate achievement of these goals.

Not all multilateral organisations will contribute to all of the MDGs. Thus, the analysis of this aspect of KPI B focuses on those specific areas that are relevant to the particular multilateral organisation. In this context, organisations may explicitly articulate or make links to the MDGs to which they are contributing at the country level, in which case evidence of these linkages will be sought. In cases where reference is not made to the MDGs in the accountability frameworks of the organisations, this may be noted in the final report.

⁴ These organisations were selected because they were assessed by MOPAN in 2009. The 2009 assessment focused on organisational effectiveness and was based only on survey data.

⁵ Different organisations use different terms to refer to their planned results – they may be called goals, objectives, outcomes, etc.

KPI C assesses relevance as the extent to which surveyed stakeholders perceive the multilateral organisation to be supporting country priorities and meeting the changing needs of direct partners and target populations.

2.3 Multilateral organisation selection

Each year MOPAN selects multilateral organisations for assessment on the basis of the following criteria:

- Perceived importance and interest to all MOPAN members
- Medium-term strategic planning (or equivalent) and replenishment cycles – with a view to assessing organisations prior to the planning process or the start of the replenishment negotiation process
- A mix of international financial institutions (IFI), UN funds, programmes, specialised agencies, and humanitarian organisations.

On the basis of these criteria MOPAN aims to assess multilateral organisations on a 3-5 year cycle.

In 2013, MOPAN will assess the following organisations: the Asian Development Bank (ADB), the International Fund for Agricultural and Development (IFAD), the World Health Organization (WHO) and the World Food Programme (WFP). All of these organisations, except WFP, were assessed in 2010.

2.4 Country selection

Each year countries are selected for the MOPAN assessment based on the following criteria:

- multilateral organisation presence in-country
- presence and availability of MOPAN members
- no inclusion in the survey in the past 2-3 years
- geographical spread
- a mix of low-income and middle-income countries (middle income countries being subdivided into lower middle and upper middle).

The assessment in 2013 will be conducted in Ethiopia, Guatemala, Indonesia, Mozambique, Pakistan and Viet Nam. Organisations are assessed only in those countries where they have operations (e.g. ADB will be assessed only in Indonesia, Pakistan and Viet Nam).

3. Survey

3.1 Overview

The MOPAN Common Approach gathers stakeholder perception data through a survey of MOPAN members (at headquarters and in-country) and other key stakeholders of the multilateral organisations under review, including direct partners or clients, peer organisations, and host or recipient government representatives. The questions asked relate both to organisational effectiveness and to the achievement of development and/or humanitarian results.

The main instrument used is an online survey. In 2013, respondents are able to complete the web-based survey in English, Spanish or Portuguese.⁶ When it is not possible for respondents to complete the online survey, off-line methods are used. Respondents may fill out a paper-based survey, complete an electronic version of the survey in Microsoft Word that is sent by email, or participate in a structured interview either in person or by telephone.

In order to ensure confidentiality, consultants (independent of MOPAN) manage the survey process and carry out the interviews.

Respondent types

To gather diverse perspectives on the multilateral organisations being assessed, MOPAN generally seeks the perceptions of the following primary respondent groups:⁷

- Donor headquarters oversight (HQ): Professional staff, working for a MOPAN donor government, who share responsibility for overseeing / observing a multilateral organisation at the institutional level. These respondents may be based at the permanent mission of the multilateral organisation or in the donor capital.
- Donor country office oversight (CO): Individuals who work for a MOPAN donor government and are in a position that shares responsibility for overseeing/observing a multilateral organisation at the country level.
- Direct partner/client (DP): Typically, individuals who work for a national partner organisation (government or civil society) in a developing country. Respondents are usually professional staff from organisations that receive some sort of direct transfer from the multilateral organisation or that have direct interaction with it at country level (this could take the form of financial assistance, technical assistance, policy advice, equipment, supplies, etc.). The definition of “direct partner” varies according to the context of each organisation assessed. In some cases, direct partners include staff members from international agencies that are implementing projects in conjunction with the multilateral organisation being reviewed.

For some organisations, other respondent categories are also used, such as peer organisations, co-sponsoring agencies, technical partners and/or recipient/host governments.

The WFP assessment included the following respondent groups:

- Direct partners: Non-government or private sector organisations that receive a direct transfer (financial assistance, capacity building, policy advice, etc.) or that have direct interaction with the organisation at the country level.
- Peer organisations: UN organisations or international NGOs that have significant investments in humanitarian assistance programming at the field level in the countries included in the assessment. These organisations coordinate with but do not receive any direct funding from the organisation assessed.
- Recipient governments: Governments in the countries selected for the assessment that receive assistance from or host the activities of the organisation assessed.

3.2 Sampling and response rates

Sampling

The Common Approach uses a purposive sampling method called ‘expert sampling’ in which potential respondents are identified by either MOPAN members or the multilateral organisations as having the basis for an expert opinion on the organisation being assessed.

The identification process, which involves MOPAN members in collaboration with the multilateral organisations assessed, results in a list of the population (all potential respondents identified by the MOs in country) for each of the multilateral organisations.

⁷ The number and type of respondent groups may vary for each organisation and additional respondent types may be included.

Individuals are invited to complete the survey for each organisation for which they have functional responsibility and sufficient knowledge.⁸ This is confirmed through a screening question that asks respondents to indicate their level of familiarity with the multilateral organisation being assessed, using a scale from 1 (not at all familiar) to 5 (very familiar). Respondents can continue the survey only if they indicate they are familiar with the multilateral organisation (i.e. a rating of 2, 3, 4, or 5).

Following the finalisation of the institutional report, the sample size is taken into account when deciding how to present survey data at the country level. If a threshold of respondents is not met,⁹ data summaries exclude the respondent group.

Response rate

MOPAN aims to achieve a 70% response rate from donors at headquarters and a 50% response rate from all other target groups, which is considered acceptable for a survey of respondents who are required to have detailed knowledge about the organisation in order to participate.

During the survey period, response rates are monitored regularly. Respondents who do not access the survey or who do not complete it receive reminders from a range of sources:

- MOPAN country office and headquarter respondents will receive reminders from their MOPAN Focal Point
- Direct partners and any other respondent groups will receive reminders online and from the local survey consultant.

All responses provided through off-line methods (including paper-based surveys, surveys in MS Word provided by email, and surveys completed through structured interviews) are entered into the online instrument using a separate link to the survey. Data for online and off-line responses are merged only after quality control measures, such as confirming correct type of stakeholder, country, etc. are performed.

3.3 Survey instrument

Survey customisation

The survey instrument draws on the existing set of indicators and is customised for each multilateral organisation assessed to reflect both the type of organisation and the types of respondents. This is done in consultation with the multilateral organisations being assessed and other individuals (MOPAN members and external resources) who are familiar with these organisations.

A core set of questions is developed for all respondents and additional questions are designed for specific respondent groups (reflecting their functional responsibility or relationship with the organisations). For example, questions relating to corporate issues, such as reporting to the Executive Board, are asked only of donors at headquarters. Questions on country-specific issues, such as the use of country systems or the extent of contribution to country-level goals, are asked only of donors in-country and clients/direct partners (or other country-based respondent groups) of multilateral organisations. Some questions are adjusted to reflect the nature of the multilateral organisation (e.g. cross-cutting thematic priorities).

⁸ Each individual respondent is provided with a unique link that reflects the respondent type and the multilateral organisation(s) they have been assigned to. Some individuals, particularly MOPAN members, may complete surveys on more than one organisation.

⁹ The threshold has been set at 4 respondents/organisation/country in past years, but this will be reviewed once the data set from this year's survey has been compiled.

Survey instrument

At the beginning of the survey, respondents are invited to assess the organisational effectiveness of the multilateral organisation. They are then asked two open-ended questions on their views of the organisation's overall strengths and areas for improvement. Subsequently, respondents are invited to provide comments on each of the four dimensions of organisational effectiveness and then to respond to the relevant questions related to development and/or humanitarian results.

The main part of the survey consists of a series of closed-ended questions on the micro-indicators for each key performance indicator (KPI). Respondents are presented with a statement describing an organisational practice, system, behaviour or specific result and asked to rate the organisation's performance on a scale of 'very weak' to 'very strong' as shown below. There is also a 'don't know' option.

Band	Rating	Definitions
		Organisational effectiveness	Development and/or humanitarian results
1	Very weak	The multilateral organisation does not have this practice, behaviour or system in place and this is a source of concern.	The multilateral organisation has not made any contribution in this area and this is a source of concern.
2	Weak	The multilateral organisation has this practice, behaviour or system but there are important deficiencies.	The multilateral organisation has made some contributions in this area, but there are still some deficiencies.
3	Inadequate	The multilateral organisation's practice, behaviour or system in this area has deficiencies that make it less than acceptable.	The multilateral organisation has made some contributions in this area but they are less than acceptable.
4	Adequate	The multilateral organisation's practice, behaviour or system is acceptable in this area.	The multilateral organisation's contributions in this area are acceptable.
5	Strong	The multilateral organisation's practice, behaviour or system is more than acceptable yet without being "best practice" in this area.	The multilateral organisation's contributions in this area are more than acceptable.
6	Very strong	The multilateral organisation's practice, behaviour or system is "best practice" in this area.	The multilateral organisation's contributions in this area could be considered as "best practice".

3.4 Survey data analysis

SPSS and Stata statistical software are used to analyse survey responses.

First level data analysis

First level survey data analysis includes calculations of mean scores, medians, standard deviations, frequencies (including analysis of 'don't know' and missing responses), as well as content analysis of open-ended questions. This is carried out for all MIs and KPIs in both components.

Frequency calculation: Frequencies are calculated on both a weighted and un-weighted basis (see below for further explanation of our approach to weighting) and are based on answers to survey questions corresponding to micro-indicators. In both sets of calculations, 'don't know' responses and missing responses are calculated as a part of the overall total frequencies. In addition to raw frequencies, all frequencies are translated into percentages for ease of interpretation.

Mean score calculation: Scores are calculated based on answers to survey questions corresponding to micro-indicators. Mean scores are calculated on a weighted basis only, based on the number of valid responses to each question. Valid responses exclude ‘don’t know’ responses and missing data (i.e. where respondents decide not to answer, or do not conform to required criteria such as location of work).

In the organisational effectiveness component, mean scores are calculated for each survey question (micro-indicator) and then for each key performance indicator (KPI) by aggregating the scores for the micro-indicators (MI) within that KPI. Equal weight is applied to each MI. For example, a KPI consisting of three micro-indicators that individually score 2, 3, and 4 will have a KPI mean of 3. In cases where multiple survey questions are needed to develop a concept, micro-indicators are composed of multiple sub-indicators. In such cases, the mean score of the sub-indicators is used to calculate the score for that particular MI.

A weighting scheme is applied to all data ensure that no single respondent group or country is under-represented in the analysis. The weighting is intended to correct for discrepancies/variation in:

- The number of individuals in each respondent group;¹⁰
- The number of countries where the survey took place; and,
- The numbers of donors in-country, direct partners, and other respondent groups within each country where the survey took place.¹¹

A weight is calculated for each multilateral organisation using the following equation:

$$W = \frac{P}{RCG}$$

Where:

W = weight factor for a given respondent group set for the multilateral organisation

P = total number of respondents for the multilateral organisation

R = number of respondent groups in the survey sample for the multilateral organisation

C = number of countries in the survey sample (per respondent group)

G = number of respondents in a particular country/respondent group set for the multilateral organisation

Weighted figures are carefully reviewed and analysed before inclusion in the multilateral organisation reports.

Converting individual scores to group ratings

A mean score is calculated for each respondent group (e.g. donors at HQ). Since mean scores are not necessarily whole numbers (from 1 to 6) MOPAN assigns numerical ranges and descriptive ratings for each range (from very weak to very strong) as shown below.

¹⁰ To account for the different numbers of respondents in each respondent group, individual weights are applied to each group.

¹¹ Weights for these groups are determined by the total number of respondents from each group who answer in their country, relative to the total number answering in other countries. Thus, a respondent in a country with a lower number of respondents carries a higher individual weight than the equivalent respondent from a country with a higher number of respondents.

Range of the mean scores	Rating
1.00 to 1.49	Very Weak
1.50 to 2.49	Weak
2.50 to 3.49	Inadequate
3.50 to 4.49	Adequate
4.50 to 5.49	Strong
5.50 to 6.00	Very Strong

The ranges are presented to two decimal places, which is simply the result of a mathematical transformation and should not be interpreted as representing a high degree of precision. The ratings applied to the various KPIs should be viewed as indicative judgments rather than precise measurements.

Second level analysis

Second level analysis examines differences in the responses among categories of respondents and other variables, as relevant for each organisation. Appropriate methods of statistical analysis are applied, including analysis of variance (ANOVA) for differences among multiple groups, t-tests for comparisons of differences between pairs of groups, and non-parametric methods where numbers of respondents required such an approach (e.g. to address assumptions of non-normality where they exist). The normal convention for statistical significance is adopted ($p \leq 0.05$) and these are reported where statistically significant differences are found.

Given the small size of the samples, particularly for some respondent groups, the comparisons across respondent groups are provided as indicative information that can be used as a basis for discussion.

In the development/humanitarian results component, the same two levels of analysis are applied but without an aggregation of scores at the KPI level. Survey data at the MI level is presented along with ratings from the document review. These data sources, as well as information gathered during interviews with HQ and country-based MO staff, are assessed together to determine a rating for two of the three KPIs in the development results component (KPI A and B). KPI C is assessed by survey only.

4. Document Review

4.1 Overview

Through an examination of publicly available documents,¹² the MOPAN document review explores evidence that multilateral organisations have the practices, behaviours or systems in place that MOPAN considers to be important factors in an organisation's effectiveness and evidence of its contributions to development and/or humanitarian results.

The document review considers various types of documents:

- Multilateral organisation documents relevant to the assessment of the MOPAN micro-indicators, such as strategic plans, results frameworks, policies and procedures in various areas of organisational effectiveness. Documents that present the results achieved at various levels of the organisation are also consulted. The organisations help to identify these documents.

¹² Documents are considered to be "publicly available" if they are on the organisation's web site or if the organisation is able to provide them upon request for the purpose of assessing the micro-indicators.

- Organisational reviews or assessments (external or internal) about the organisation's performance on the dimensions of the MOPAN framework (strategic management, operational management, relationship management, and knowledge management). These studies are either found on the organisation's web site or are provided by the organisation.
- External assessments such as the Survey on Monitoring the Paris Declaration (2011), the Common Performance Assessment (COMPAS) report (2011), and previous MOPAN surveys.¹³
- Evaluations, either internal or external, of the achievement of results at various levels.

4.2 Document sampling

The multilateral organisations selected for review represent a wide variety of organisational structures, processes, and practices – which makes it challenging to create a generic sampling strategy. However, the collection of documents follows a number of overall principles to ensure consistency and focus the sampling process.

All documents, regardless of type or level within the organisation, should be approved by the relevant authority (e.g. organisation-wide documents are usually approved by the multilateral organisation's Executive Management or Board).¹⁴

All documents (including policies, guidelines, strategies, thematic documents and web site information) are selected, at least in part, based on the requirements noted below.

- Policies or guidelines, at any level within the multilateral organisation, are selected only if they are in force as of the year of assessment.
- Strategies, regardless of level within the multilateral organisation, are selected only if they are being implemented within the year of assessment.
- Thematic documents, including strategies, plans and reports, regardless of the level within the multilateral organisation, are selected based on a principle of reviewing a mix of thematic areas.
- Any information presented on the multilateral organisation's web site (i.e. the text from a page on this site, not a downloadable document available on the site) is retrieved within the year of assessment, and is assumed to be current unless the web page itself states otherwise.
- All documents (except for policies, guidelines and strategies) should be published within the following timelines, unless there is a strong rationale for reviewing older documents:
 - Project/programme level documents: the current or previous year
 - Country, regional, or organisation-wide documents: the past three years inclusive of the year of assessment
- When specific MIs require a sample of sector strategies, country strategies, or project level documentation, a specific sampling approach is developed and tailored for each multilateral organisation.

4.3 Document collection

The collection of documents follows the general steps outlined below, although it is not a linear process:

¹³ If data from these sources are not available for the multilateral organisations participating in this year's survey, either an alternate approach is developed or the micro-indicators are not assessed.

¹⁴ This is intended to ensure that documents reviewed are final documents (rather than drafts) and that they are providing guidance for organisational behaviour.

- Initial document research on the web site of the multilateral organisation
- Collection of COMPAS and Paris Declaration Survey Data
- Consultation with the multilateral organisation, who review and refine the initial data set (through the MOPAN Institutional Lead)
- Finalisation of document list.

Once the document list is finalised and the document review has commenced, further documentation needed to fill any gaps in information for certain indicators is requested from the multilateral organisation. If the documents obtained from the third request do not contain the information needed, the consultant team makes the assessment based on the information available.

Other external assessments

As noted above, the document review includes a review of other external assessments.

Common performance assessment system (COMPAS) report, 2010 and 2011

COMPAS provides a framework through which the multilateral development banks (MDBs) can track their capacities to manage for development results (MfDR). The annual COMPAS report provides data in four categories (Country Strategies, Managing for Development Results through the Project Cycle, Corporate Results Reporting, Private Sector Development and Operations) that are relevant to the MDBs' implementation of the MfDR agenda. The data are gathered by internal management units in the MDBs, generally those that are supporting the implementation of MfDR. For the IFIs, MOPAN focuses primarily on the following indicators from the COMPAS report: B. Managing for Development Results through the Project Cycle.

- Implementation performance
 - B. 8. Number and percentage of projects that were unsatisfactory in FY10 and that became satisfactory in FY11.
- Project completion reporting and evaluation
 - B. 11. Number of projects independently reviewed ex post during FY11, as a percentage of the average number of projects completed annually during the last 5 years.

Survey on monitoring the Paris Declaration, 2008 and 2011

The two most recent monitoring surveys (2008 and 2011), managed by the OECD, highlight areas in which countries and organisations may be falling short in reaching the targets established by the Paris Declaration. Since a number of the MOPAN indicators are based on the Paris Declaration indicators, the assessment looks at the data provided in Appendix C of the monitoring survey report, entitled "Donor Data"¹⁵, for the following indicators, when applicable:

- Indicator 3: Aid flows aligned on national procedures
- Indicator 4: Strengthen capacity by co-ordinated support
- Indicator 5 a and b. Use of country public financial systems and use of country procurement systems
- Indicator 6: Strengthen capacity by avoiding parallel implementation structures
- Indicator 7: Aid is more predictable

¹⁵ In general, the assessment draws on the data from the "Average Country Ratio – All Countries", unless it is not available.

- Indicator 9: Use of common arrangements or procedures
- Indicator 10a: Joint missions

The OECD survey reports data for the United Nations as a whole, thus MOPAN relies on UN organisations to provide their data as input for these indicators. Other data sources will also be consulted to complement the OECD survey reports.

The indicators, targets and processes through which implementation of the Busan Partnership for Effective Development Co-operation will be monitored at the global level have not yet been agreed to. As long as the final set of indicators to be established by the Busan process (as a review of Paris and Accra agendas) has not been decided upon, MOPAN will continue to use the Paris Declaration indicators and will revise as soon as there is international agreement on a set of indicators that will replace them.

4.4 Document analysis

4.4.1 Content analysis

Documents are reviewed by content analysis based on the themes of the micro-indicators. Specific criteria for assessing the content of documents have been developed, based on existing standards and guidelines for each of the indicator areas (for example, any UNEG or OECD-DAC guidelines), on MOPAN identification of key aspects to consider, and on the input of subject-matter specialists.

The analysis of indicators in the organisational effectiveness component may include an examination of four broad areas:

- Quality: Documents are assessed in terms of their content, and in particular for the presence or absence of particular items or characteristics noted in standards as best practice.
- Use: While difficult to assess by document review, some proxy indicators for the use or implementation of a document are examined, such as evidence from budget documents that a certain policy or priority area is being financed, or evidence from evaluations that show implementation of a policy or priority area.
- Consistency: Where possible, several documents of the same type are examined (such as country strategies in different countries) to assess the extent to which criteria are met consistently across the organisation.
- Improvement over time: In some cases, documents are examined over several years to assess the extent to which progress can be seen over time.

Documents are also used to aid in the understanding of the context in which the multilateral organisations work.

In the development and/or humanitarian results component, documents will be reviewed at both the institutional and country levels to determine the extent to which planned results from the strategic period were achieved. The document review will be largely based on an examination of performance reports and thematic or programme evaluations in relevant areas to examine issues of quality and improvement over time, in particular.

4.4.2 Rating scales

The multilateral organisations are assessed on relevant micro-indicators in the Common Approach document review framework.¹⁶ The document review ratings are defined according to three sets of scales: a) a six-point scale for the majority of the organisational effectiveness questions (very weak, weak, inadequate, adequate, strong, very strong); b) a three-point scale for organisational effectiveness micro-indicators informed, in part, by the Paris Declaration Indicators (inadequate, adequate, strong); and, c) a four-point scale for the assessment of evidence for the development and/or humanitarian results component (weak, inadequate, adequate, strong). This last assessment is a data source that, together with survey data, is used to determine the overall “best fit” rating for KPIs A and B.¹⁷

¹⁶ Not all MOPAN micro-indicators are identified for document review.

a. Organisational effectiveness component

The document review ratings determined for the majority of the MIs in the Common Approach build on the definitions and scale used in the survey, as described in section 3.3 above.¹⁸ The document review ratings range from 1 (very weak) to 6 (very strong).

For most micro-indicators, five criteria are established which, taken together, are considered to represent the best practice in that topic area. Each criterion is designed as a ‘met/not met’ alternative and each ‘met’ counts as one point in the rating. Ratings are arrived at by totalling the number of criteria met, taking into account all the evidence in the assessment, and the assessment team’s judgment.

Document review criteria and rating

Number of criteria met	Descriptors	Definitions
No criteria met (or required document(s) do not exist)	Very weak	The multilateral organisation does not have this practice, behaviour or system in place and this is a source of concern/ or the multilateral organisation has no document that provides evidence of such a system being in place.
One criterion met	Weak	The multilateral organisation has this practice, behaviour or system but there are important deficiencies.
Two criteria met	Inadequate	The multilateral organisation’s practice, behaviour or system in this area has deficiencies that make it less than acceptable.
Three criteria met	Adequate	The multilateral organisation’s practice, behaviour or system is acceptable in this area.
Four criteria met	Strong	The multilateral organisation’s practice, behaviour or system is more than acceptable yet without being “best practice” in this area.
All five criteria met	Very strong	The multilateral organisation’s practice, behaviour or system is “best practice” in this area.

Some micro-indicators, such as those using Paris Declaration Survey or other related data as the primary data source,¹⁹ follow a different rating method. In these cases, ratings are established on a case-by-case basis according to three descriptive criteria – ‘inadequate’, ‘adequate’ and ‘strong’. These ratings are then translated into a 3, 4 or 5 score to maintain consistency with the 6-point scale.

Ratings for key performance indicators (KPIs) are based solely on the ratings for the component micro-indicators in each KPI. Each KPI rating is calculated by taking the arithmetic mean of all micro-indicator ratings in that KPI rounded to the nearest whole number. This number is given the appropriate descriptor. In cases where the micro-indicator ratings for one key performance indicator are highly divergent (i.e. if there are two micro-indicators, and one is rated as “very weak” while the other is rated as “very strong”), this is noted in the narrative of the report.

¹⁷ The “best fit” approach takes into account all data – survey, document review and contextual – rather than solely the document review data. See section 6 for a more detailed description of the “best fit” approach.

¹⁸ For document review, however, the definition of “Very Weak” is expanded to mean that “the multilateral organisation does not have this system in place and this is a source of concern / or the organisation has no document that can provide evidence of such a system being in place.”

¹⁹ Paris Declaration Survey data will be the primary, but not the only, source for those MIs that are based on Paris Declaration indicators.

b. Development/humanitarian results component

A set of criteria has been established as a basis upon which to assess the evidence of progress towards results. The criteria, which are assessed using ‘met/not met’ ratings, are:

- a) Evidence of explicit theory or theories of change²⁰
- b) Baselines included for indicators
- c) Targets included for indicators
- d) Reports on outputs²¹
- e) Reports on outcomes²²
- f) Reports according to a theory or theories of change²³
- g) Data reliability²⁴

The assessment of evidence in the document review of development and/or humanitarian results is a data source that, together with survey data, is used to determine the overall “best fit” rating for KPIs A and B.

5. Interviews

As of 2012, interviews are conducted at the headquarters and country offices of multilateral organisations with individuals who are knowledgeable in areas that relate to the MOPAN assessment.

Interviewees are asked to provide knowledge, insight, and contextual information that will assist the MOPAN assessment team in analysing document review data, and to identify other relevant documents for the assessment team to consider. This helps ensure that the assessment team has all the appropriate and necessary documents, enhances the team’s ability to triangulate data from various sources, and assists the assessment team in the analysis of the key performance indicators by providing contextual information.

Interviews are conducted with a small number of staff who work in the primary units that relate to areas of the MOPAN assessment (e.g. strategy and planning, human resources, RBM, and evaluation). Interviewees are identified by the multilateral organisation in conjunction with the assessment team and MOPAN.

The overall purpose of interviews is to ensure more reliable and valid assessments. In particular, the interviews aim to ensure better quality data and to help contextualise the analysis

²⁰ ‘Theory of change’ is understood in the sense defined by Rist and Morra Imas (2009) as, “a representation of how an intervention is expected to lead to desired results”, which typically includes inputs, activities, outputs, outcomes and impacts as well as other features, “including target groups, and internal and external factors”.

²¹ This refers to the OECD definition of outputs (i.e. lower level results). Some MOs use different terminology for the various levels of results.

²² This refers to the OECD definition of outcomes (i.e. higher level results). Some MOs use different terminology for the various levels of results.

²³ Evidence required to substantiate the reported changes defined in e) or higher-level results of results. Initial interviews are conducted with staff of the multilateral organisation and are intended to facilitate:

- Identification and clarification of the organisation's strategic objectives and planned results at the institutional and country level
- Identification of data and documents to use for the assessment, including a discussion of the time period to be considered and selection of country level documentation
- Discussion and clarification of reporting practices and data that are available in order to understand the strengths and limitations of current reporting on results
- Identification of key staff to consult in each selected country office, if necessary, in order to better understand the logic of the organisation's interventions, the organisational contributions at the country level, and contextual factors affecting the organisation's performance.

Interviews are semi-structured but flexible, allowing new questions to be brought up during the interview as a result of what the interviewee says. This type of interview does not follow a tightly prescribed questionnaire, but does require prior preparation of the key interview themes. The interview themes and questions are shaped by the MOPAN assessment framework and are tailored for each of the respondents according to his/her functional responsibility. An interview guide is prepared and interviewees are advised of the content areas beforehand.

Interviews are intended to provide several benefits to the MOPAN assessment. First, they provide the multilateral organisation with a better understanding of the types of documented data that are required for the MOPAN assessment so that they can fill in any gaps in the documentation required for the document review. Second, they provide the MOPAN assessment team an opportunity to better understand the multilateral organisation's practices and systems.

Data gathered during interviews is used as background information on the various areas being assessed – specifically, to understand the context in which the agency is working, as well as how decisions are made. In the event that survey data presents a picture that is very different from the assessment made in the document review, information from the interviews can help to clarify how the multilateral organisation approached a certain issue.

The interviews are conducted after the assessment team has conducted a preliminary review of documents and are scheduled primarily during the months of February and March. If the multilateral organisation and MOPAN agree, the interviews are conducted in person during visits to the headquarters of the multilateral organisations. Alternatively, interviews are carried out by telephone or via video-conference.

6. Ratings

6.1 Overview

From 2003 to 2009, the basis for the determination of ratings in MOPAN assessments was the perceptions of survey respondents. With the introduction of the document review in 2010 and interviews in 2012, ratings now draw on a variety of sources that can be compared and triangulated.

- Survey: Survey respondent perceptions are still an important component of the ratings on multilateral organisation performance and now include a broader range of stakeholders.
- Document Review: The document review process is guided by specific criteria for assessing the content of documents in relation to the micro-indicators. These criteria draw on existing standards where available (e.g. OECD-DAC, UNEG or other standards) and are adapted to the needs of the MOPAN Common Approach.

- Interviews: The interviews are used to triangulate data with the other two data sources. The MOPAN assessment team explores the convergence (or non-convergence) of the data, and when there is no convergence the team relies on expert judgment.

To the extent possible, the assessment standards and criteria are tailored to reflect the nature and operating environment of the multilateral organisations under review.

6.2 Triangulation

Triangulation is the process of using multiple data sources, data collection methods, and/or theories to validate research findings. Triangulation helps eliminate bias, and detect errors or anomalies.²⁵ In the Common Approach, triangulation is done in a number of ways:

- Document review ratings are presented separately from survey results in order to illustrate convergence with or divergence from them.
- Additional assessments of the organisations are reviewed to help to validate or question the findings.
- Interviews are conducted to provide contextual information and highlight additional sources of data.
- The analysis and proposed ratings for the development and/or humanitarian results component is presented to a panel of experts for discussion and finalisation.
- The findings are widely vetted within the MOPAN network and revised based on feedback from members.
- The reports are shared with the multilateral organisations and their review constitutes the final stage of the data collection process.

The MOPAN reports gain trustworthiness through the multiple reviews and validation processes that are carried out by members of the network and by the multilateral organisations themselves.

6.3 “Best fit” approach

The development and/or humanitarian results component’s key performance indicators draw on a set of questions or criteria (see Annex I). The assessment team uses a “best fit approach,” which is a type of criteria-referenced basis for judgment that is more suitable when: criteria are multi-dimensional, there is a mix of both qualitative and quantitative data, and it is not possible to calculate a simple sum of the data points.²⁶ This approach is highly consultative (with institutional advisors, a panel of experts and the MOPAN network) and relies on consensus in the determination of ratings.

Ratings

The approach to the rating by key performance indicator in the results component is different from that in the organisational effectiveness component of the MOPAN assessment. This reflects the particular methodological approach used and the nature of the data. More specifically, four qualitative ratings (strong, adequate, inadequate, weak) have been defined, one of which is selected by the assessment team following an analysis of data from all sources and confirmed following a consensus-based consultation. As in the six-point scale used in the survey and for assessing the micro-indicators on organisational practices, a rating of “strong” signals that the organisation is approaching good practice based on the documentation reviewed, while a rating of “weak” signals that the organisation still has important limitations in demonstrating progress towards its stated results, and particularly its contributions to development and/or humanitarian outcomes.

²⁵ Wholey, J.S., Hatry, H.P., Newcomer, K.E. Eds (2010) Handbook of Practical Program Evaluation (Third Edition), San Francisco, California: Jossey-Bass, p. 446-447.

²⁶ The “best fit” approach is used in public sector institutions (see Ofsted, 2011: Criteria for making judgements).

The descriptors and criteria for each of the ratings are specific to the different KPIs, as summarised in the tables in Annex 1 below. Descriptors illustrate the achievement level and the assessment team selects the achievement level that best describes the performance on all of the criteria.

In some cases, there might be divergence between survey respondent perceptions about the organisation’s progress towards its objectives and the nature and extent of data on results that is presented in the organisation’s reports. In these cases the assessment team takes into account the number and character of the areas for improvement in the evidence on results provided in the organisation’s reports and other relevant documents. If a majority of the assessment criteria are not fulfilled by the organisation’s reports, then this component will weigh more heavily in the final rating. In order to justify the rating and provide input for dialogue on results and reporting on results, the MOPAN report presents details of the document analysis that have been emphasised in the determination of ratings.

Data analysis

- Data analysis at the institutional level focuses on the extent to which planned results from the strategic period were achieved. It is based largely on performance reports at the institutional level and organisation-wide thematic evaluations in relevant areas. Data analysis takes into account survey results and the interviews with the multilateral organisations.
- Analysis of data at the country level focuses on the organisation’s contribution to results in the sample of countries selected for the MOPAN assessment. Due to differences in planned results between countries, a separate analysis is conducted for each country. Based on the individual country analyses, an overall judgment of the multilateral organisation’s achievement of results at the country level is provided.
- The assessment is based on the same analytical approach at both levels. Content analysis is used for the review of documents and in the analysis of any open-ended survey questions. The review of documents analyses the evidence of results achievement. Answers to open-ended survey questions are coded by categories that emerge in the preliminary examination of data.

7. Reporting

7.1 Institutional reports

Individual institutional reports are produced for the multilateral organisations assessed. Survey results are reported using means and frequencies. At the organisation-wide level, mean scores are predominantly used to report results from micro-indicators.

The results of the document review are presented alongside the survey results and discussed in light of the perception-based scores and interviews, in order to further substantiate and contextualise the overall findings.

In individual institutional reports, the assessment of development and/or humanitarian results follows the assessment of organisational effectiveness.

7.2 Country data summaries

A short summary of survey results is produced for each of the MOs in each of the countries surveyed where sufficient survey data exists. Country data summaries (CDS) include a short analysis of micro-indicators rated by MOPAN members, direct partners and other survey respondents at the country level.

Country Data Summaries are prepared in order to provide feedback to those who participated in the MOPAN assessment and to provide input for a dialogue process. These summaries highlight the main strengths and areas for improvement as perceived by survey respondents in each country. The data summaries are based on the perceptions of a range of stakeholders, which vary depending on the multilateral organisation assessed (MOPAN donors, clients/direct partners, peer organisations, etc.). They also describe differences in ratings between the different countries in which an organisation was assessed.

There are, however, some limitations to the MOPAN assessment at the country level. One relates to achieving an adequate response rate from each of the respondent groups and another is the sometimes high level of “don’t know” responses on the survey questions, particularly from MOPAN donors. The assessment team, together with MOPAN, takes these limitations into account when deciding what Country Data Summaries to prepare and which respondent groups to include in the analysis.

Country Data Summaries are not published and are shared only with individuals who attend the country workshop on the MOPAN assessment findings, which usually takes place in the first quarter of the year following the assessment.

8. Strengths and limitations of the Common Approach

MOPAN continues to improve methodology based on the experience of each year of implementation. The following strengths and limitations should be considered when reading MOPAN reports.

Strengths

- It has gone beyond an assessment of organisational systems, practices and behaviours to include an assessment of an organisation’s measurement of and reporting on development and/or humanitarian results at both the organisation-wide and country levels.
- The MOPAN Common Approach has its origin in bilateral assessment tools and is based on common international standards (as set out in bilateral assessments and internationally agreed indicators such as those developed as part of the Paris Declaration). In the long term, the intent is to replace or reduce the need for other assessment approaches by bilateral donors.
- It seeks perceptual information from different perspectives: MOPAN donors (at headquarters and in-country), direct partners/clients of multilateral organisations, peer organisations, and other relevant stakeholders. This is in line with the commitments made by donors to the Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness, the Accra Agenda for Action, and the Busan High Level Forum regarding harmonisation, partner voice, and mutual accountability.
- It complements perceptual data with document review and interviews, thus using multiple sources of data. This should enhance the analysis, provide a basis for discussion of agency effectiveness, and increase the validity of the assessment through triangulation of data.
- The reports undergo a validation process, including multiple reviews by MOPAN members, and review by the multilateral organisation being assessed.
- MOPAN strives for consistency across its survey questions and document review for each of the multilateral organisations, while allowing for customisation to account for differences between types of multilateral organisations.

Limitations

MOPAN framework

- The countries are selected based on established MOPAN criteria and comprise only a small proportion of each institution's operations, thus limiting broader generalisations.
- The Common Approach indicators were designed for multilateral organisations that have operations in the field. For organisations that have limited field presence or that have regional structures in addition to headquarters and country operations, there have been some modifications made in the data collection method and there will be a need for greater nuance in the analysis of the data.
- The Common Approach framework was initially designed for multilateral organisations that have a development mandate. MOPAN has also tested and applied the framework for organisations with a humanitarian mandate but considerable adaptation of the framework is required in such cases.

Data sources

- The MOPAN Common Approach asks MOPAN members and the organisations assessed to select the most appropriate individuals to complete the survey. While MOPAN sometimes discusses the selection with the organisation being assessed, it has no means of determining whether the most knowledgeable and qualified individuals are those that complete the survey.
- The document review component works within the confines of an organisation's disclosure policy. In some cases, low document review ratings may be due to unavailability of organisational documents that meet the MOPAN criteria (some of which require a sample of a type of document, such as country plans, or require certain aspects to be documented explicitly). When information is insufficient to make a rating, this is noted in the charts.

Data collection instruments

- Three issues potentially affect survey responses. First, the survey instrument is long and a fatigue factor may affect responses and rates of response. Second, respondents may not have the knowledge to respond to all the questions (e.g. survey questions referring to internal operations of the organisation, such as financial accountability and delegation of decision-making, seem difficult for many respondents, who frequently answer 'don't know.'). Third, a large number of 'don't know' responses may imply that respondents did not understand certain questions.
- The rating choices provided in the MOPAN survey may not be used consistently by all respondents, especially across the many cultures involved in the MOPAN assessment. One potential limitation is 'central tendency bias' (i.e. a tendency in respondents to avoid extremes on a scale). Cultural differences may also contribute to this bias as respondents in some cultures may be unwilling to criticise or too eager to praise.
- Because one of MOPAN's intentions is to merge previously existing assessment tools into one, and to forestall the development of others, the survey instrument remains quite long.

Data analysis

- While the document review can serve to evaluate the contents of a document, it cannot assess the extent to which the spirit of that document has been implemented within the organisation (unless implementation is documented elsewhere).
- Mean scores are used in the MOPAN reports to provide central tendency values of the survey results. The mean has the advantage of being the most commonly understood measure of central tendency, however, there is a disadvantage in using the mean because of its sensitivity to extreme scores (outliers), particularly when samples are small. The assessment team also reviews the median and standard deviations for each survey question and they are appended to the institutional report.

Ratings

- Although MOPAN uses recognised standards and criteria for what constitutes good practice for a multilateral organisation, such criteria do not exist for all MOPAN indicators. As a result, many of the criteria used in reviewing document content were developed by MOPAN in the course of the assessment process. The criteria are a work in progress and should not be considered definitive standards.
- The Common Approach assessment produces numerical scores or ratings that appear to have a high degree of precision, yet can only provide general indications of how an organisation is doing and a basis for discussion among MOPAN members, the multilateral organisation, and other stakeholders, including direct partners.
- MOPAN assessments used different rating scales. Whereas these differences can be justified according to the methodology used, it can lead to confusion to the readers of the report.
- The methodology for the development/humanitarian results component was designed to draw on the evidence of results achieved, as presented in the reports of a multilateral organisation. However, there is a critical difference between assessing the actual results achieved on the ground and assessing the evidence of results in the organisation's reports to its key stakeholders. This is a limitation that is inherent in the current approach.

Despite these limitations, MOPAN believes that the reports generally provide a reasonable picture of both the systems associated with the organisational effectiveness of multilateral organisations and the evidence of development and/or humanitarian results achieved.

Annex I – Criteria to determine the rating for the development results component KPIs

KPI A

Strong	Given the context, the organisation provides solid evidence of its contributions towards higher level results. The organisation is demonstrating progress towards its key corporate objectives or outcomes and clearly explains where progress has been significant or where progress has been slower, as well as the factors that have affected that progress. The description of progress is well supported by data from measuring indicators, evaluations, or other sources. The organisation has articulated theories of change that link the kinds of products and services that it provides to the kinds of development and/or humanitarian outcomes that it hopes to support. There is consistency across the different data sources, including the perceptions of the organisation's key stakeholders.
Adequate	Given the context, the organisation is demonstrating progress in some of its planned outcome areas. Although the organisation does not yet have a strong evidence base that describes progress or contributions towards outcomes, it does have consistent evidence of the completion and quality of its outputs. The theories of change in different areas are understandable at the organisational level. There may be some inconsistency across data sources.
Inadequate	The organisation does not provide evidence that it is meeting or moving toward most of its stated results. In addition, the theories of change are not well articulated. The exploration of different sources of data (including perceptions of key stakeholders) does not provide consistent evidence with regard to achieving results. While the organisation presents some data on progress towards its expected results, the evidence base is weak.
Weak	The organisation is not demonstrating progress towards its key corporate results. The organisation does not clearly articulate theories of change and the various sources of data collected do not provide a picture of an effective MO.

KPI B

Strong	The MO shows progress towards meeting its expected results in all countries assessed (taking into account their context). The organisation provides evidence that it is, in general, making progress towards higher level results at the country level. The country level data indicates that the MO is meeting its key goals or outcomes identified in its country strategy and clearly explains where progress has been significant or where progress has been slower, as well as the factors that have affected that progress. The description of progress is well supported by data from measuring indicators, evaluations, or other sources. The organisation has articulated theories of change that link the kinds of products and services that it provides to the kinds of development and/or humanitarian outcomes that it hopes to support. There is consistency across the different data sources, including the perceptions of the organisation's key stakeholders.
Adequate	The MO shows progress towards meeting its expected results in some of the countries assessed (taking into account their context). However, the organisation does not yet have a strong evidence base that describes progress or contributions towards outcomes. It does, however, have evidence on the completion of and quality of its outputs. The theories of change are understandable, but there may be some inconsistency across data sources.
Inadequate	The organisation does not provide useful evidence that indicates that it is meeting or moving toward most of its expected results in the countries assessed. In addition, its theories of change are not well articulated. The exploration of different sources of data (including perceptions of key stakeholders) does not provide a consistent picture of positive evidence with regard to achieving results. While the organisation presents some data on progress towards its expected results in the countries assessed, the evidence base is weak.
Weak	The organisation does not provide evidence that it is making progress towards key results articulated in its country strategy. The organisation does not clearly articulate theories of change and the various sources of data collected do not provide a picture of an effective MO.

KPI C

Strong	The organisation is consistently seen by surveyed stakeholders to respond to partner country priorities, provide innovative solutions to development and/or humanitarian challenges, and be flexible in its approach.
Adequate	The organisation demonstrates relevance through positive assessment on most, but not all, of the areas noted above. The assessment is somewhat inconsistent across the countries surveyed.
Inadequate	The organisation demonstrates relevance in only a few areas and the assessment is inconsistent across the countries surveyed.
Weak	There is a clear, more negative perception of the organisation's relevance in each area.

[DEFINITION 1]

Cluster system = Clusters are groups of humanitarian organisations (UN and non-UN) working in the main sectors of humanitarian action, such as food security, shelter and health. They are created when clear humanitarian needs exist within a sector, when there are numerous actors within this sector and when national authorities need coordination support. Clusters provide a clear point of contact and are accountable for adequate and appropriate humanitarian assistance. They create partnerships between international humanitarian actors, national and local authorities, and civil society.

[DEFINITION 2]

Cluster lead or co-lead = All clusters have focal points, known as cluster lead agencies, which operate at the global and country level. In specific countries, cluster leads serve as the main contact for government and the Humanitarian or Resident Coordinator. They ensure that humanitarian activities are coordinated and make a difference to people in need. They also act as a provider of last resort in their respective sector. WFP is often lead or co-lead of the logistics, food security and emergency telecommunications clusters in countries.

Mean Score: calculation of mean scores includes the application of weighting factors to the respondent sample as follows:

- a) equal weight is given to the views of each of the five respondent groups;
- b) equal weight is given to each of the countries where the survey took place;
- c) equal weight is given to respondent groups within each country where the survey took place

However, the base is un-weighted.²⁷ Total – includes all respondents. “--” indicates that the question was not asked among a particular respondent group

Overall Score MI 4.6		Adequate (4)	At the time of the assessment, WFP was still developing the required systems and capacities or accountability mechanisms to fully mainstream protection in its programming. To coordinate and deliver programme support on protection, a WFP team at headquarters is building and maintaining a cadre of in-house trainers, coordinating training/facilitation workshops for field staff and partners, maintaining a roster of internal, external and standby partner personnel for potential deployment, ensuring coordination with the global protection cluster and field-level protection clusters, and advising WFP Management and country offices on protection-related advocacy. In 2012-2013, WFP is targeting 10 country operations to pilot implementation of its humanitarian protection policy. Guidance to implement the policy is being developed by the organisation and is expected to be mainstreamed in WFP's work as of July 2015.

MI 10.1 Results-focused performance assessment systems are in place for senior staff (including Country Directors)	There is evidence in the documents reviewed that a system is in place that requires performance assessments for certain staff.	Met	WFP (2004), Performance and Competency Enhancement Programme (PACE) – Transition from MAP , Memorandum (internal document)
	If the first criterion is met, the evidence suggests that this system applies to senior staff (e.g., president/CEO/executive director, vice presidents, sector/programme/division directors, country representatives, country directors) and/or that the MO has a specific performance assessment system for senior staff. Overall Score MI 11.2		Inadequate (3)	This MI examines work plans/operational plans prepared by country offices to track implementation of projects/programmes. As the organisation does not require a common format for these plans, the quality of those sampled varied; in general they lacked detail on the steps to be accomplished (including milestones, baselines and targets) to achieve the project's or programme's intended humanitarian/development results . Nevertheless, the overall rating has been raised to inadequate in recognition of the existence of Annual Performance Plans in each country office which provide information on the implementation of management results that can benefit project/programme implementation.

Appendix X Details on methodology used for KPI A

This appendix provides some details on the methodology used to calculate the values presented in Figures 4.5-4.9 on evidence of WFP's progress towards expected outcomes by strategic objective in Volume I of the MOPAN report.

Using indicator data from WFP's Annual Performance Report for 2012, the five figures illustrate gaps in the self-reported data on outcomes presented by WFP and the limited evidence base used to track progress on various outcome indicators.

The first section below provides information on the variables and calculations WFP uses to report on its corporate outcome indicators, while the second section presents the variables used by the MOPAN assessment team to assess the available evidence base to track progress on outcome-level achievement.

WFP reporting

The table below recreates a portion of the outcome indicator table presented in Annex II-B of WFP's Annual Performance Report for 2012. It presents two of the six corporate indicators WFP uses to track progress toward outcome 1.1 (reduced or stabilised acute malnutrition in target groups of children and/or populations).

ANNEX II-B: OUTCOME PERFORMANCE REPORTING
INDICATOR	Reporting rate (%)	Number of projects reported on indicators	Number of values	Number of comparable values	Improvement number (%)	Stabilization number (%)
	R_1	P_1	N_1	N_2	I_1 (I_2)
Strategic Objective 1
Prevalence of low mid-upper arm circumference (MUAC)	57	8	8	2	2(100)	0(0)
Supplementary feeding recovery rate	100	34	39*	37	24(65)	10(27)

* In some instances, a single project may report multiple disaggregated values for an indicator.

In WFP's table, the reporting rate, R_1 , refers to the number of projects that reported on certain corporate indicators in standard project reports (SPRs), P_1 , divided by the number of projects that included these indicator(s) in the logframes, P_2 . In general, one indicator value is presented per project, though a single project may report multiple disaggregated values for an indicator in some instances (as an example see the number of values, N_1 , for the supplementary feeding recovery rate indicator, identified with an asterisk for ease of reference). The number of comparable values, N_2 , refers to the number of indicator values from the previous column for which there are baselines or previous values to assess progress. WFP's improvement number (I_1) is presented as the proportion of values that demonstrated improvement (I_2) over those which can be assessed (N_2).

MOPAN analysis

Below is a portion of Figure 4.5 (from Volume I of the MOPAN report) which presents information on the same outcome indicators as in the WFP Annex II-B table above.

 Data considered less robust for analysing progress on the outcome indicator (percentage usable < 50%; see third column)

Outcome indicator	Number of projects that reported on the indicator P_1	Percentage of usable values reported (%) U_1	MOPAN analysis of projects showing progress (%) M_1	WFP analysis of projects showing progress (%) I_1
Outcome 1.1 – Reduced or stabilised acute malnutrition in target groups of children and/or populations
1.1.2 Prevalence of low mid-upper arm circumference (MUAC) among children under 5	8	25%	25%	100%
1.1.3 i) Supplementary feeding recovery rate	34	95%	62%	65%

- P_1 : number of projects that reported on the corporate outcome indicator in standard project reports (identical to the variable presented in the WFP table).
- U_1 : percentage of usable values reported by country offices; this variable is calculated as the number of comparable values over the number of values from the WFP data (N_2 / N_1).

As a criterion to help inform the analysis of evidence of results, the assessment team considered that outcome indicators for which less than 50% of the reported data could be used ($U_1 < 50\%$) were less trustworthy as a source of information from which to draw conclusions on outcome-level progress (i.e. signs of improvement are less meaningful or representative if the majority of the data is thrown out).

- M_1 : MOPAN analysis of projects showing progress; this variable is an estimate of the number of projects that showed progress, P_3 , over the total number of projects that reported on the indicator, P_1 . The estimate illustrates limitations in the pool of data from which conclusions on organisation-wide results are drawn. A more severe assessment would consider not only the number of projects that reported values on an indicator, but the number of projects that were supposed to report based on their logical framework (see P_2 in text on WFP table above).

To calculate M_1 , we first need to calculate the number of projects that showed progress, P_3 . Given that certain projects report multiple values, we can estimate the number of projects showing improvement as:

w is a weighting factor equal to the number of projects that reported on the indicator, P_1 , over the total number of values reported for the indicator, N_1 (this factor allows us to convert, through an approximation, the number of values into the number of projects); and I_2 is the number of values for which there was evidence of improvement.

Thus the MOPAN analysis of projects:

$$M_1 = P_3 / P_1 = (w * I_2) / P_1 = ((P_1 / N_1) * I_2) / P_1 = I_2 / N_1$$

This equation demonstrates that the MOPAN analysis of projects showing progress can be reported alternatively as a ratio of projects, or a ratio of values.

- I_1 : proportion of those values that demonstrated improvement over those which can be assessed (identical to the variable presented in the WFP table).

Appendix XI Contribution to country-level goals and priorities

The charts below present the assessments of the extent to which WFP contributed to its expected humanitarian outcomes and development programming areas in each country sampled – based on document review and survey results (mean scores). Output and outcome level achievement was assessed on the basis of WFP's self-reported data against its own targets. The survey scale is the same as that presented for the organisational effectiveness component and KPI A.

Evidence of extent of progress towards country level results in Ethiopia

Expected humanitarian results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B1 – Improve food consumption for emergency-affected households
Met	Partially met	Over the 2009-2011 period, the two PRROs delivered 95% of commodities planned and reached on average 7.75 million people annually (thus surpassing the number of beneficiaries planned). In one of the two interventions, the proportion of households observed to be within the acceptable range of the food consumption score (FCS) jumped from 27% in 2008 to 41% in 2010, but then dropped to 36% in 2011 due to the drought affecting the Horn of Africa.	4.84
MI B2 – Reduce or stabilise acute malnutrition among vulnerable groups in food-insecure districts (e.g. young children, pregnant and lactating women, refugees, etc.)
Not met	Not met	Overall, WFP reached only 26% of targeted children under 5 and 40% of targeted pregnant or lactating women during the 2009-2012 period. Moreover, as stated in the 2012 SPR: The [global acute malnutrition (GAM)] rates in the older refugee camps were below or close to WFP's GAM target (less than 10 per cent). However, overall GAM rates had increased in 2011 compared to base values.	4.64
MI B3 – Enhance mothers' and other women's basic knowledge of nutrition-related issues in food-insecure communities
Partially met	Insufficient data	Respectively, 83% and 88% of planned beneficiaries were reached in 2010 and 2011. However, no data was provided at the outcome level.	4.26
MI B4 – Increase uptake of antiretroviral therapy (ART) and improve nutritional recovery of food-insecure people living with HIV/AIDS
Partially met	Partially met	On average, 125,000 beneficiaries received food through HIV/AIDS-supported programmes annually over the 2009-2011 period, representing 77% of targeted beneficiaries. Among this population, adherence to antiretroviral therapy (i.e. taking medication as intended) in the last three months of treatment remained above the 95% target. The nutritional recovery rate reached 60% in 2011, which is below the corporate target of 75% (an intervention specific target was not specified).	4.22

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B5 – Increase access to education and develop human capital of vulnerable children (orphans, refugees, those living in urban communities affected by HIV/AIDS, etc.)
Partially met	Met	Over the 2009 to 2012 period, the percentage of orphans and other vulnerable children (OVCs) in school and receiving take home rations or school meals ranged from 14% to 89% of planned values. Among the OVCs receiving take home rations, school attendance rates increased from 91% in 2006 to 99% in 2012. The attendance rates for refugee children receiving school meals also progressed, but the annual rate of increase was shy of the 5% target.	4.35
MI B6 – Increase marketing opportunities at national level with cost effective WFP local purchases
Partially met	Not met	Only 8 of the 14 farmer organisations targeted were reached by WFP's Purchase for Progress (P4P) programme. However, due to drought-induced crop failure, most cooperative unions supported by the programme defaulted on their supply contracts.	4.53
MI B7 – Increase ability of food and cash assistance beneficiaries (safety-net programme) to manage shocks and invest in activities that enhance their resilience
Partially met	Partially met	Of the 15 asset creation or restoration activities conducted under the food-for-asset programme (FFA) during the 2009-2011 period, 4 surpassed their planned asset creation or restoration value, while 6 executed less than 50%. In terms of progress towards outcome level results, the proportion of households with an acceptable food consumption score (FCS) jumped from 20% in 2008 to 63% in 2010, and then fell to 46% in 2011. The 2011 drought in the Horn of Africa undermined WFP's achievement of results.	4.49
MI B8 – Incorporate hunger solutions in broader national policy frameworks and increase government capacity, particularly at local levels, to identify food needs, develop strategies and carry out hunger and disaster risk reduction programmes
Met	Insufficient data	On average, 2 000 government staff members were trained annually. However, as outcome indicator data is missing from reports, it is not possible to say if WFP is meeting its expected outcome or not.	4.52

Expected development results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B9 – Improve sustainable land management in chronically food-insecure woredas (districts)
Met	Met	Although distribution of commodities ranged between 68% and 76% of planned values from 2009 to 2011, over 90% of assets planned have been created or restored overall. In 2011, 145 240 households (96% of those assisted by WFP) reported having experienced an increased income as a result of assets created under the MERET programme.	4.08

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B10 – Improve access to quality education for primary school children in food-insecure areas
Met	Met	Almost 300 000 children received in-school meals in WFP-assisted primary schools annually. Enrolment increased, as did the gender ratio (ratio of girls to boys enrolled) which changed from 77% in 2007 to 88% in 2011. As noted in the 2011 SPR: Beneficiary schools displayed an 8 per cent average annual rate of enrolment growth, higher than the national average of 5.7 per cent. The programme also demonstrated a significant reduction in drop-out rates compared to the national average of 18 per cent.	4.42
MI B11 – Transform schools into local development centres to empower communities
Met	Not met	On average, more than 100 000 take home rations were distributed annually over the 2009-2011 period – well above the 85 000 planned. However, the only outcome indicator data reported was on school passing rates; there was no evidence to demonstrate progress toward the stated result.	3.96

Evidence of extent of progress towards country level results in Guatemala

Expected humanitarian results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B1 – Improve food consumption for vulnerable groups affected by emergencies
Partially met	Not met	While less than 40% of the planned tonnage of food was distributed during the 2010-2011 period, the beneficiary caseload increased from 235 000 to 369 000 due to additional extreme weather events. Unsurprisingly, the percentage of targeted households registering 'poor or borderline' food consumption scores increased.	4.62

Expected development results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B2 – Reduce chronic undernutrition
Partially met	Not Met	Funding constraints led WFP to target only one province (reportedly with the highest prevalence of chronic undernutrition). The number of beneficiaries reached as well as the tonnage of food distributed were thus less than planned. Based on partial execution of the output and the absence of data for the outcome indicator it appears that no notable progress was made towards the outcome.	3.75

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B3 – Improve the livelihood of subsistence farmers affected by recurrent shocks
Partially met	Not Met	WFP originally planned to reach two separate groups of beneficiaries for a total of 12 000 participants. However, due to lack of funding, the country office decided to concentrate its food-for-asset and food-for-training programming on a single group, thus reaching a total of 8 776 participants. Even though farmers now cultivate more black beans, their yield has decreased. Moreover, no changes were observed in the proportion of farmers who stored this food item or in the average number of pounds which they stored.	4.14
MI B4 – Increase smallholders' incomes and enhance their food security (Purchase for Progress or P4P)
Met	Met	2 083 smallholder farmers participated in WFP's purchase for progress (P4P) programme, representing 72% of the planned value. In addition, in 2011 and 2012, WFP almost tripled the quantity of food it purchased locally, by comparison to 2009. Moreover, the average yield obtained by smallholders in 2011 was 97% higher than the average yield of 34 quintals reported in 2009. Under the P4P programme, small farmer organisations improved the quantity and quality of maize and bean production, reduced post-harvest losses, and sold surpluses.	4.22
MI B5 – Strengthen the capacities of government institutions
Partially met	Partially met	The 2012 SPR reported that the government is taking over the complementary feeding component as part of its new Zero Hunger Plan, and that HIV activities included the incorporation of the nutritional dimension in the Ministry of Health's HIV Guidelines and trained health personnel on its application. Although no indicator data is presented at the outcome level, this information is indicative of some progress towards the outcome.	4.16

Regional humanitarian intervention²⁸ – Guatemala results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
Corporate Strategic Objective 1 – Save lives and protect livelihoods in emergencies
Partially met	Met	Although only 75% of commodities were distributed, more than 150% of targeted beneficiaries were reached as compared to the number that had been planned. Moreover, the proportion of households with an acceptable food consumption score increased from 73% to 90% in 2012.	Not surveyed
Corporate Strategic Objective 3 – Restore and rebuild lives and livelihoods in post-disaster situations
Partially met	Met	From April to August 2012, the coping strategy index (CSI) dropped from 12.6 to 10.4, and the community asset score (CAS) rose from 4.2 to 6.8.	Not surveyed

²⁸ The regional intervention was assessed only through document review.

Evidence of extent of progress towards country level results in Indonesia

Expected humanitarian results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B1 Reduce acute malnutrition in young children
Partially met	Partially met	Due to funding shortfalls, planned outputs were only partially executed in 2010, but surpassed targets in 2009 and 2011. While data reported for the 2010 period indicates that acute malnutrition in the targeted population fell from 20% to 13.2%, data for this outcome indicator are not available for the remainder of the assistance period.	4.27
MI B2 Improve food consumption for emergency-affected households
Partially met	Not Met	From over a million in 2009, the number of beneficiaries fell to approximately 400 000 in 2010 and to 325 000 in 2011 (i.e. the ratio of actual over planned beneficiaries decreased from 118% to 68% in 2010, but rose to 91% in 2011). However, no outcome indicator data was recorded for the duration of the operation.	4.34
MI B3 Increase communities' access to assets
Met	Partially met	90% of the community assets planned were created and 8 times more men and women than planned were trained in livelihood-support thematic areas. The 2010 SPR mentioned that 6 of 7 districts had improved their community asset scores, implying an improvement for 85% of the targeted communities (assuming that WFP considers each district to be a community).	4.08
MI B4 Increase and stabilise enrolment and attendance of girls and boys in WFP-assisted schools
Partially met	Insufficient data	124 736 children received school meals in 2012. This corresponds to 83% of the planned target, which was less than a half of the 2010 target. However, no pertinent data was reported at the outcome level in the SPRs.	3.91
MI B5 Increase marketing opportunities at national level with cost-effective WFP local purchases
Met	Insufficient data	On average, WFP bought 2 439 mt of high energy biscuits locally each year, largely exceeding the target of 2 679 mt for the entire period of the PRRO. Although 100 % of the total food purchases have been procured locally, quantities dropped from 12 345 mt in 2009 to 1 887 in 2011. Under this circumstance and in the absence of explicit targets, it is not possible to determine clear progress towards the outcome.	3.98
MI B6 Progress made towards nationally owned hunger solutions
Partially met	Partially met	One hand-over strategy was developed between 2008 and 2011, and its implementation was partially achieved by the end of 2011. Though some information is presented in the text narrative of SPRs, there is insufficient evidence on indicators included in these reports.	4.17
MI B7 Broader national policy frameworks incorporated hunger solutions
Partially met	Partially met	Though some information is presented in the text narrative of SPRs on progress towards outputs and outcomes, there is insufficient evidence on indicators included in these reports.	3.96

Expected development results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B8 Strengthen national capacity to monitor, analyse, map and address food insecurity
Not met	Not met	No output or outcome indicator data was reported for this development programming area. Hence, we conclude that there was no noticeable progress towards this outcome.	4.75
MI B9 Strengthen national capacity in disaster preparedness and response
Partially met	Not Met	In 2012, 12 059 participants were involved in food-for-work (FFW) activities; this represents 100.5 % of the planned figure. Training of government and counterpart staff members in emergency preparedness and response reached only 63% of numbers planned. At the outcome level, none of the indicators identified in the Country Programme for the component on strengthening national capacity in disaster preparedness and response were reported on. Although two outcome indicators which may relate to this MI were documented, the data was presented without baseline, previous monitoring or target values. Thus, the overall evidence is insufficient to determine whether there is progress towards the outcomes.	4.15
MI B10 Strengthen national capacity to reduce undernutrition below critical levels
Partially met	Not met	Overall, less than 30% of the beneficiaries which were originally planned for were reached by supplementary and school feeding activities; due to funding shortfalls, the omission of certain sub-districts and schools was required. Moreover, no indicator data was available to track progress towards outcome achievement.	4.10

Evidence of extent of progress towards country level results in Mozambique
Expected humanitarian results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B1 – Improve food consumption over assistance period for targeted emergency-affected households
Partially met	Met	With its annual rate of achievement of planned food distribution varying between 66% and 130%, WFP reached almost 2.2 million beneficiaries between 2009 and 2012. The food consumption score (FCS) and the coping strategy index (CSI) registered small improvements.	4.77

MI B2 – Improve nutrition status of vulnerable groups receiving food assistance
Met	Partially met	On average, 340 000 HIV/AIDS and tuberculosis beneficiaries were reached annually (representing 108% of the overall planned value). Although outcome indicator data was missing, WFP's strong performance at the output level suggests some progress is likely at the outcome level.	4.43
MI B3 – Increase survival of adults and children affected by HIV after 6 months of anti-retroviral therapy
Met	Partially met	Nearly 150 000 beneficiaries receiving preventative mother-to-child transmission treatment or antiretroviral therapy were reached on average annually, representing 200% of the overall planned figures. Although outcome indicator data was missing, WFP's strong performance at the output level suggests some progress is likely at the outcome level.	4.03
MI B4 – Reduce vulnerability of communities to hazards
Partially met	Partially met	On average annually, 6 400 beneficiaries received cash and vouchers and 550 000 received food (this respectively represents 40% and 81% of planned beneficiaries). The coping strategy index (CSI) dropped from 57 to 42 between 2008 and 2011, signalling improvement. However, missing outcome indicator data prevents us from determining whether the outcome has been fully attained.	4.29
MI B5 – Increase marketing opportunities at national level with cost-effective WFP local purchases
Met	Partially met	Local food purchases accounted for 36% of all food purchased in 2008, and for 67% in 2011. Although nearly two-thirds (64%) of food distributed in-country was purchased locally, this is lower than the 80% target value.	4.55
MI B6 – Make progress towards nationally owned hunger solutions
Partially met	Insufficient data	855 counterpart staff members were trained in food assistance management, vulnerability assessment mapping, contingency planning, monitoring/evaluation, and food security assessment. However, none of the outcome indicators are documented.	4.09

Expected development results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B7 – Increase enrolment of primary school children in high dropout zones and food-insecure areas
Met	Partially met	On average, 175 000 children received food and non-food items annually (88% of the overall planned value). The attendance rate approached 90% but did not reach this targeted value, and the annual enrolment rate decreased.	4.21

MI B8 – Strengthen the community safety-net system in Mozambique
Partially met	Partially met	To strengthen Mozambique safety nets, the country programme has been working to achieve handover of the school feeding programme to government. From 2007 to 2009, WFP gradually handed support to boarding schools over to government, while also building its capacity to take on the management of the school feeding programme in the northern provinces. With respect to the latter, WFP trained 20 government staff on managing logistics in 2010, and another 489 in 2012. As of 2012, all 159 schools assisted by the operation were handed over to the government. WFP also contributed to developing the school feeding component embedded in the Strategic Plan for Education, including a resource requirement forecast. A component addressing prevalence of stunting among children under two was added to the CP in 2011, but it has not yet been implemented due to funding constraints.	4.36

Evidence of extent of progress towards country level results in Pakistan

Expected humanitarian results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B1 – Reduce and/or stabilise acute malnutrition in young children and pregnant and lactating women
Partially met	Met	WFP generally achieved its intended outputs under two interventions (EMOP 200177 and PRRO 200145), but fell a bit short for the other two (EMOP 107680 and EMOP 108280). Women continued to be difficult to reach as beneficiaries, although progress was made under mother/child health nutrition activities. For instance, the proportion of actual versus planned pregnant and lactating women reached increased from 59% to 115% over the 2009-2010 period for EMOP 107680, and jumped from 4.9% to 94.3% over the 2010-2012 period for EMOP 200177. Overall, progress made towards the outcome by these four interventions was substantial enough to consider the outcome achieved.	4.45
MI B2 – Improve food consumption for targeted vulnerable populations
Met	Partially met	Although the amount of food as well as cash and vouchers distributed fell short of planned values, the four interventions which contributed to this outcome (EMOP 107680, EMOP 108280, EMOP 200177, and PRRO 200145) generally met their planned objectives in terms of number of beneficiaries reached; on average, more than 15 million beneficiaries per year were reached during the 2010-2012 period. The two more recent interventions achieved substantial results at the outcome level (surpassed their food consumption score targets), but the other two interventions did less well.	4.91
MI B3 – Develop and/or enhance government disaster risk management measures in Pakistan
Met	Met	As planned, 21 338 government staff and 200 counterpart staff were trained in disaster and climate risk management. Moreover, 37 of the expected 38 local early warning systems were put in place.	4.01

MI B4 – Improve enrolment, attendance and retention of girls and boys in assisted schools in crisis-affected areas
Partially met	Partially met	All three interventions focusing on this outcome (EMOP 107680, EMOP 200177, and PRRO 200145) seem to have experienced some difficulties initially, exhibiting very low rates of output achievement. Even when the operations were well underway, they generally didn't achieve their intended distribution of food. Although all interventions demonstrated good progress in terms of enrolment and retention rates, (the latter was above 95% for both 2011 and 2012), reports do not provide sufficient evidence to show that gender disparities in assisted schools were reduced – which was among the projects' aims.	4.22
MI B5 – Targeted households recover access to functioning productive assets in fragile, transition situations
Partially met	Partially met	The two interventions focusing on this outcome reached or exceeded their planned outputs in terms of creating/restoring physical assets. However, this data needs to be interpreted cautiously as the specific physical asset targets were adjusted during the course of the year in order to be in line with the amount of resources available. Lack of resources also explains why planned outputs were only partially met with respect to the number of participants and the amount of cash and vouchers disbursed. Although beneficiaries of the EMOP were shown to have reduced the proportion of their household expenditures devoted to food, there is no outcome level evidence provided for the PRRO.	4.11

Expected development results

Documented evidence to support achievement of expected results:		Key documented results achieved	MOPAN survey ratings (mean score)
Output level	Outcome level
MI B6 – Improve primary school enrolment, retention and completion rates at selected girls' schools in targeted areas
Met	Met	For the last three years, the country programme reached on average 465 000 girls in 3 332 schools. Moreover, the passing rate for girls increased from 61% in 2008 to 76% in 2011.	4.02
MI B7 – Improve women's access to public services, especially healthcare
Met	Not met	From 2007 to 2011, 874 564 pregnant and lactating women (PLW) were given food under the mother and child health/supplementary feeding programme (representing almost 125% of the planned value). However, the percentage of lactating women who received a postnatal check-up fell from 23% in 2009 to 22% in 2011.	3.94
MI B8 – Increase access for poor rural women in creating and preserving physical, economic and social assets
Not met	Not met	From a gender standpoint, outputs were poorly achieved: the female-to-male ratio of recipients of cash/vouchers and of participants in food-for-work/food-for-training activities averaged 18.8% over 2009 and 2010. In as much as this outcome concerns poor rural women's access to physical, economic and social assets, indicators did not show real progress.	3.71
